DEDICATION

In 1945 Dr. Neal Bond Fleming became a member of the Millsaps College Faculty. Since that time he has gained the admiration and the respect of all who have been a part of the college community.

It would not be incorrect to say that he represents the true spirit of Millsaps. His constant search for wisdom and the truth have labeled him as a fellow student of ours. His courtesy, his friendly disposition, and his eagerness to be of service to one and all have labeled him as our comrade. His Christian thought has made him our brother.

Millsaps College will continue to grow and prosper, and we are confident that many of her students will grow in mind, body, and spirit in the footsteps of one who will always be remembered and loved by those who have had the privilege of knowing him and his life.

It is our pleasure to dedicate our 1956 BOBASHELA to...

DR. NEAL BOND FLEMING

OUR PRESIDENT

HOMER ELLIS FINGER, JR.

Under the guidance of Dr. H.E. Finger, Millsaps College has hopes of expansion-- both in size and influence. In the past few years he has given generously of his time and efforts to make Millsaps a greater institution.

His hard work has been beneficial not only to members of the College, but also to all citizens of the surrounding community.

A civic, social, and religious leader, he will continue to enrich our lives and the lives of others in future years.

DEAN OF FACULTY

JAMES SHARBROUGH FERGUSON

The duties of an Academic Dean are as numerous as the mind can imagine. This job calls for intelligence, patience, understanding, and concentration.

Millsaps College is fortunate in having as its Academic Dean a man with all these fine qualities plus many more. No other person could better fill this position and at the same time possess a friendly and co-operative air as Dean Ferguson has a habit of doing.

Millsaps has long had the policy of selecting as its leaders men and women of Christian training who will be valuable in all the various phases which he or she must enter. It is evident to all those who know him that Dean Ferguson represents that type of leader—a man who will always be remembered when we think of our Alma Mater. Not only will he be remembered, but the things for which he stood and tried to instill in us and all those he knew through his various activities.

We are proud of our Dean and his achievements. We welcome his friendship, his advice, and his constant efforts to improve the conditions of the college.

JAMES LOVICK WASSON

IN MEMORIAM

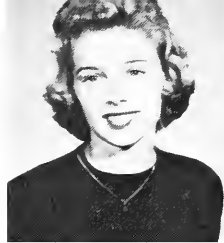

JAMES LOVICK WASSON

--GOD BE WITH YOU 'TIL WE MEET AGAIN--

Millsaps College suffered the loss of James Lovick Wasson on September 11, 1955. Truly, it was a loss, for the qualities found in this young man were valuable, creative and enduring. He was loved, admired and respected by the entire college community.

His life and ideals will always remain in the memories of those who knew him, and his principles will be a source of inspiration for all.

May we remember that a job done by Luke was a job done well, and may we strive to carry on the banner which he held high.

RICHARD R. MALEY

RICHARD R. MALEY

--GOD BE WITH YOU 'TIL WE MEET AGAIN--

This space in our annual is dedicated to one of our students who was called to higher service on November 5, 1955. Its purpose is to pay tribute to one who was taken from us as he stood on the threshold of manhood. In no way could any amount of space on paper compensate for the vacancy which his death left in the hearts and minds of his friends and relatives.

The Christian beliefs that are ours teach us that "All things work together for good for those that love the Lord." Though life is strange and death even stranger, we must realize that there is a purpose in every act of God. With this in mind we must continue to face life in all of its reality and look forward to the day when we will be in the presence of this comrade and companion who has gone on before us.

Dick Maley will always be remembered, admired, and loved by all those who knew him at Millsaps College.

THE PLAYERS

The Players includes all students who work on the brilliant productions of Mr. Lance Goss and Co. This year "Cyrano de Bergerac," "The Rainmaker," and "Come Back, Little Sheba" were the highlights of the stage.

Besides the main productions, one-act plays were directed by Burton Jackson, Walter Ely, and Karen Gilfoy. These were "On Monday Next," "In the Narrow Place," and "East Lynne" respectively.

Alpha Psi Omega sponsors these productions in conjunction with The Players. Grease paint, late hours, and expensive costumes are characteristic of all productions. However, The Millsaps Players have yet to do a "hammy" show, and all students usually survive without the expected ulcers, insanity, and mass rebellion. Through the sweat and strain of it all Lance Goss manages, along with the others, to keep some amount of self-composure and dignity.

PURPLE AND WHITE

HENRY CARNEY Editor
FREDDIE ABRAHAM Business Manager

THE PURPLE AND WHITE is Millsaps College's weekly newspaper. Students with a journalistic trend can put their talents to use each week, either in sports, features, news items, editorials, society news or gossip. Every Friday students have an opportunity to catch up on what has happened concerning students, faculty, and the "Little Man on Campus."

In Philadelphia, everyone reads the PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER--at Millsaps, everyone reads the PURPLE AND WHITE.

THE SINGERS IN ACTION

Under the direction of Alvin Jon King for the last time, the Singers gave their usual good job to the college. Little needs to be said concerning this group, for it manages to speak well for itself at all times.

The Singers is composed of the regular chapel choir and the tour choir. Those in the tour choir represent the college at many engagements during their Spring jaunt around the nation. The Chapel choir proves to be a capable replacement for the globe-trotters during their yearly explorations.

The Singers will miss the guidance and inspiration of "Pop" King. His hard work at Millsaps will be remembered by all those who have benefitted from it. We pay tribute to a man who has given unselfishly of his time, effort, and patience to us. Millsaps will always be grateful to him for his loyalty, friendship, and overall contribution.

MILLSAPS SINGERS

Pictured below is the tour choir that will leave soon after this writing to entertain and inspire people all across the nation. Their reputation is one that is well earned and will be maintained this year as it has been in the past. There is not a vacation (as the new cut system would lead us to think) but a terrific job which requires talent and hard work. We wish them the best of success.

THE MILLSAPS TOUR CHOIR

THE MILLSAPS COLLEGE

BAND

BAND CONDUCTOR SAM L. JONES

Few colleges can boast of a band such as ours. The Mill-saps band has many functions and performs each with much vigor and interest.

The band performs on the stage as well as on the foot-ball field. It would be a pity if the services of the band were to end with football season, for Christmas and Spring concerts are calendar dates of high interest and enthusiasm on the campus.

We owe much credit to the band for its spirit during foot-ball season and its inspiration at all times. Sam Jones is to be commended for his fine work, the results of which we look forward to seeing again next year.

MILLSAPS-WILSON LIBRARY

For many years the patrons and alumni of Millsaps College have worked earnestly and unceasingly for a new library through which the students of Millsaps might have greater opportunity to enrich their minds and improve culturally. Much unselfish work and planning were necessary for progress in this direction.

On September 29, 1955, the doors of the beautiful new Millsaps-Wilson Library were formally opened to the public and the college community. In an impressive ceremony this building was dedicated to the furtherance of the Kingdom of God.

As students, we may show our gratitude by making full use of the facilities which have been given to us by men and women who love Millsaps College and were willing to make important sacrifices of time, energy, and money to make this gift possible. May we always remember them as we enjoy their gift.

These next two pages tell briefly the story of how the Millsaps-Wilson Library was completed and dedicated. We pay tribute to those who first paid tribute to us.

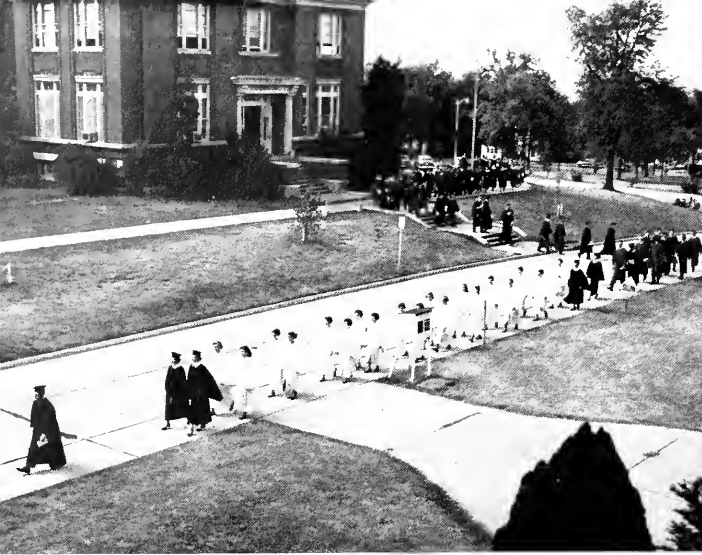

CHAPTER I: ABOVE- The plans are made by the administration and construction is begun. Curious eyes view the progress and wonder what the final result will be. Many problems are yet to arise, but the project is being handled by capable and intelligent men in whom much confidence is placed. Millsaps alumni are very generous in their efforts to make the program a successful one.

CHAPTER II: BELOW- (LEFT)- Months later the idea has been transformed into action and the framework of the new structure is a familiar and interesting sight on Methodist Hill. Students soon learn to avoid fresh concrete and falling bricks.

CHAPTER III: BELOW- (RIGHT)- Early September sees students sharing in one of the many jobs that still remain. There is great satisfaction in knowing that soon the transformation from the old to the new will be complete.

CHAPTER IV: ABOVE- Students march to dedication ceremony where Dr. A.G. Sanders delivers the main address. September 29 is an eventful day, as it is the sixty-third anniversary of the college and the first formal opening of the Millsaps-Wilson Library.

CHAPTER V: BELOW- Completion of the dream! Dr. H.E. Finger, President of Millsaps College, greets the public to the inspection of the library. Meanwhile, the library staff glances over some literature that is as new as the shelves where it will be placed.

CHAPTER VI: THE FUTURE- Our children and grandchildren will appreciate tomorrow that which we have seen established today. May Millsaps College continue in her growth and prosperity.

PURPOSE OF SOCIAL GROUPS

At first glance one might think of a social group as an organization that teaches its members how to play bridge, dance, and enter a bull session with enthusiasm. We can't deny that the finer arts of social living are learned and practiced.

However, in the hustle and bustle of college life there are the serious moments we spend which will be remembered and relived over and over again. The social groups teach young men and women to live together in a spirit of co-operation and mutual understanding. It is their purpose to unite the ideas of youth into one great melting pot, in which are found the plans for tomorrow. Hard work, contribution of assorted talents, and self-improvement are all a part of the plan.

After four years of college life Millsaps Students are ready to meet the demands of the world. This is not the result of what we learned in the classrooms alone. Rather, it is this plus the fine art of respecting the opinions and criticisms of others; of being a part of something.

1955 MILLSAPS

In 1955, as has become customary, the Millsaps Major football squad gave an excellent account of itself and was a prime example of college football as played for the sport of it. The group of footballers who gathered for the opening practices had perhaps the highest potential of any Purple grid team of recent years, but a college which participates in intercollegiate athletics on an amateur basis is usually weak in reserves, even if it can field a top-notch starting line-up. With the limited substitution rule still in effect and a fine veteran eleven available for duty, the future looked bright for the Major gridders. The year's first game, with William Carey at Hattiesburg, gave the Majors the blow from which they never recovered- two key players benched with injuries by half-time. The loss of Powell and Lowery was directly responsible for this opening defeat. With the one experienced quarterback out for the season, half-back "Crow" Parnell took over the all-important signal-caller's position in the Split-T offense for the game with strong Delta State, Mississippi's only perfect-record senior college team in '54. Despite a fine performance by Parnell, the Purple team could not keep up in the scoring column although out-playing the rugged Statesmen. Playing brilliantly one Saturday and sluggishly the next, the Majors reached their peak in mid-season victories over Sewanee and Howard and the heart-breaking loss to the Chocs. Coming to life in the final minutes of the Sewanee game, Millsaps copped the triumph on a last-minute Parnell-to-Deaton pass. Speedster Roy Wolfe sparked the easy win over Howard and the Majors rolled into the Mississippi College game on the crest of a victory surge. For three quarters, the game team in Purple shirts appeared well on its way to a decisive and hard-earned victory. Fortune turned her head and the MC squad drew off to a lead that not even a determined drive in the game's closing seconds could overcome. After a dismal loss to Southwestern, the Majors rebounded to score an easy 34-6 victory over Ouachita before a large Parent's Day crowd in the season finale.

DEATON, End

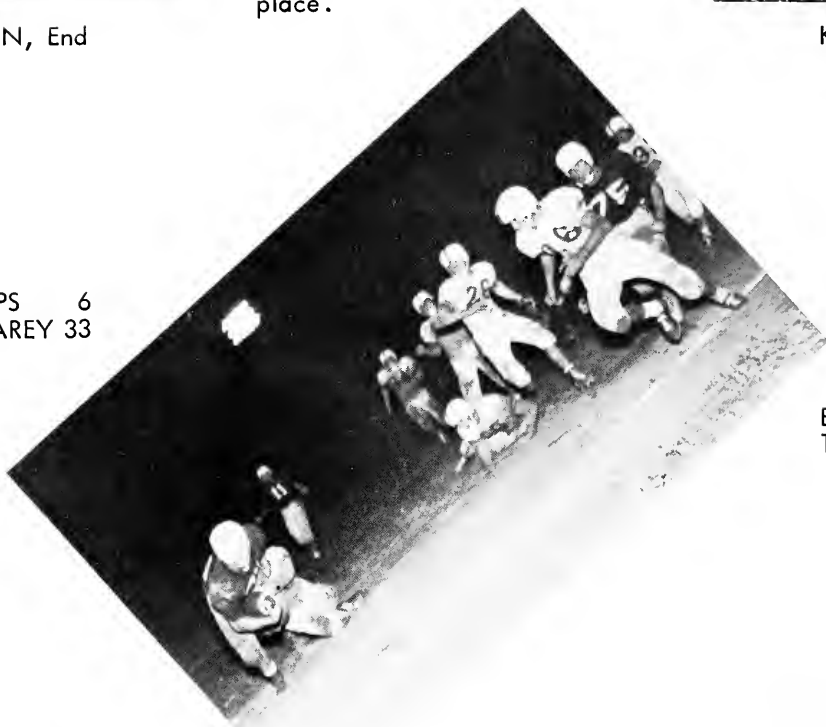

Charles Deaton—Winding up a fine varsity career, "Snake" was an able right wingman, with his game-winning catch of a last-minute pass against Sewanee most outstanding. His sharp blocking and accurate tackling will be missed come '56.

Bennie Kirkland—Another brilliant flanker, Bennie has been an indispensable man through each of his four years as a starter. His excellent pass-receiving, blocking and tackling will be hard to replace.

PREWITT, Tackle

Tom Prewitt—His hard blocking and tackling made Tom a real bulwark in the left side of the Purple line. Another senior, Prewitt's big number 75 was found in on scores of tackles during the '55 season.

Terry Moore—This fine junior back lived up to the promise shown in the two previous campaigns by becoming one of the Majors' most reliable runners. A leader in yards - gained, Terry was also a sure tackler.

MOORE, Back

HOOD, Center

James Hood—Steadiness, sharp blocking, alertness defensively--these are the characteristics of a fine center. One of Millsaps' most underrated players, Hood was all of these, a real team man!

Johnny Awad—Pound for pound, the best guard in the South. For four seasons Johnny has not only been a fine blocker and tackler, but he has also had a key role in keeping team spirit high—win or lose.

LOWERY, Back

John Lowery—In his final year John continued to be the bell-wether of the Majors' offense. Four years of hard running and crushing blocking and tackling have earned him a place in the Millsaps Football Hall of Fame!

Hardy Nall—Although hampered by injuries throughout the season, Hardy was one of our top runners and pass-receivers and perhaps was the outstanding defensive back.

NALL, Back

BOONE, Guard

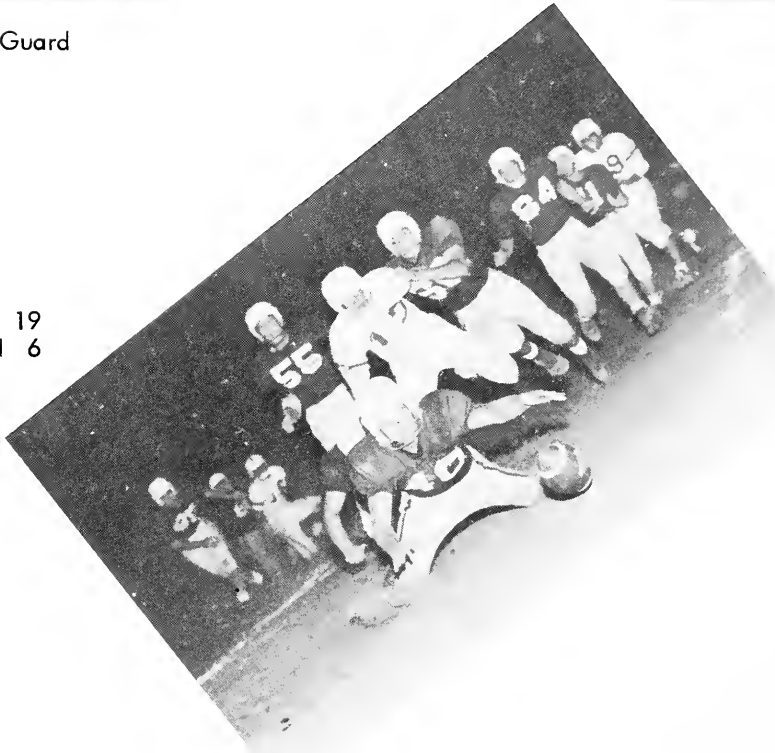

Tom Boone—Long one of the Majors' most outstanding and colorful players, Tom capped off his senior year in fine style, being selected by his team-mates as Most Valuable Player. Awad and Boone—a guard combination long to be remembered.

Jon Ed Williams—Probably the most outstanding freshman on the squad, Jon Ed turned in some fine performances at his terminal post and he is one to look out for in 1956.

PARNELL, Back

Robert Parnell—The difficult is easy and the impossible takes a little while. This perfectly describes "Crow" who, after the season began, switched to quarterback and did a magnificent job, calling plays, passing, running. A job well done!

Bobby Joe Smith—A dependable player at all times, Bobby Joe was a strong point in the Purple line and is among those seniors who will be vitally missed come '56.

SMITH, Tackle

RUSHING, Back

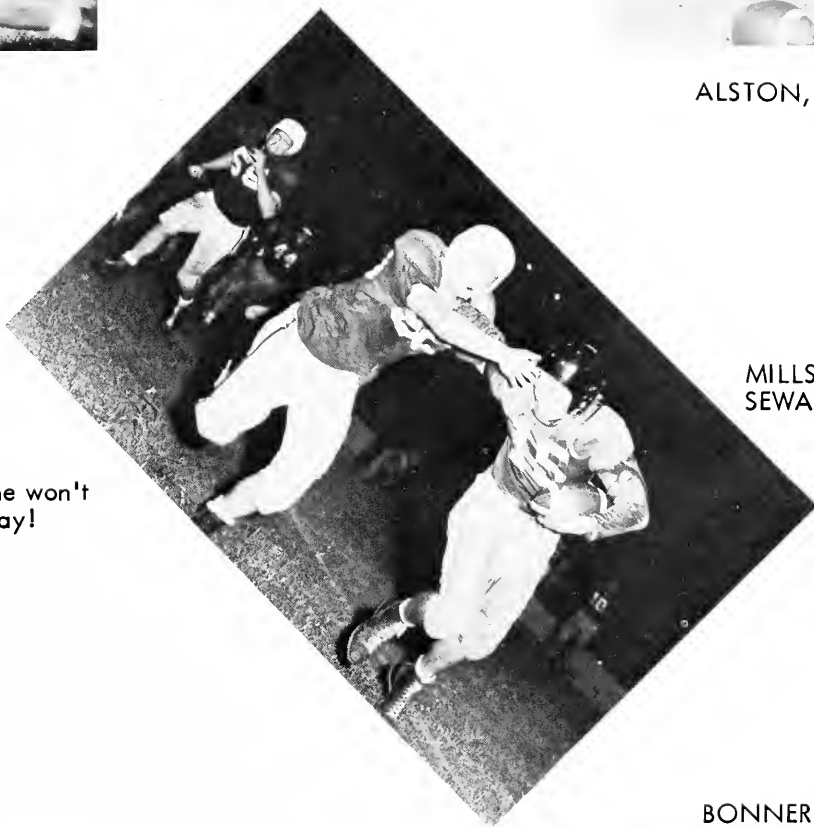

Cliff Rushing-1955 saw Cliff develop into one of the Majors' most reliable backs. He was a key man in the offense, coming through with numerous long gains at crucial points. This fine back is one of the few starters slated for return in 1956.

Alex Alston-This capable guard, too long held in a second-line role, came through with some fine line play during the season and seems headed for a starting berth in '56.

WOLFE, Back

Roy Wolfe-This scrappy speedster came into his own this year, starting several games. Performing both at half- and quarter-back, Roy's long runs were an important factor in the Major offense.

Pat Bonner-A capable wingman whose forte is defense, Pat played an important part in the success of the team. He likely, with his smashing end play, earned a post on the starting squad for '56.

BONNER, End

POWELL, Back

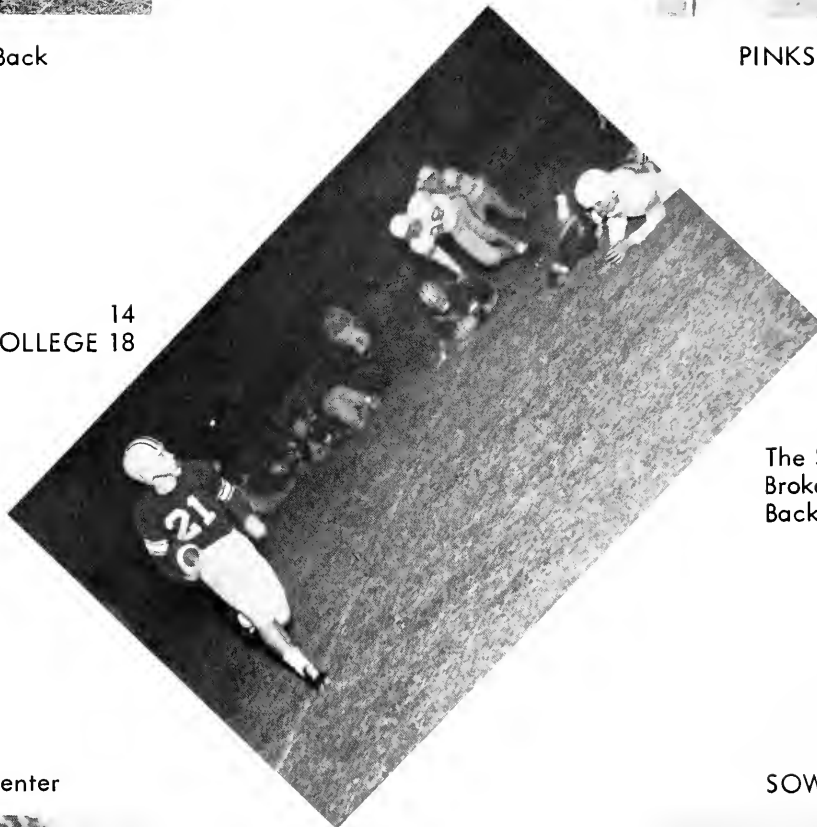

"Red" Powell-A brilliant quarter-back and cool strategist, his loss in the first game was a blow from which the '55 Majors never recovered. "Red" was selected Most Valuable Player in 1954.

Murray Pinkston-His return near mid-season bolstered the sagging tackle corps. Murray's hardcharging line play was a definite asset to the team.

Paul Comola-Paul's spirited play was a vital force in the Millsaps line play this year. His more than adequate defensive play made him a top line-backer.

BELK, Back

Fred Belk-This big freshman half-back as a spot player turned in some fine performances during the year. Fred gave high promise of being an outstanding runner and pass-catcher in his remaining seasons.

WOODRICK, Tackle

Rayford Woodrick-This stalwart transfer tackle proved to be a valuable man in the Majors' line. Ray's strong-point is defense and much is expected of him in that capacity in '56.

Jack Hester-Another transfer, this speedy half-back saw only limited action this year, but turned in good performances. Jack is one to be counted on to help fill the shoes of the numerous departing seniors.

HESTER, Back

JONES, Tackle

Floyd Jones—This fast rugged guard played a consistent, hard-charging game in the Major forward wall. Although not in the starting line-up, Floyd is another who appears ready to move up to a first guard slot.

Joe Armstrong—Only a freshman, Joe gave every indication of developing into a fine player for Millsaps in his three remaining years of eligibility. In '55, Joe served very well as a spot performer at one of the guard positions.

THE COACHES

BERRY, Tackle

Jim Berry—A big, rough man in the line, Jim was a capable and much used reserve at the tackle slot. His consistent play very probably earned him a starter's post for the upcoming grid campaign.

Coach Sammy Bartling and Coach Erm Smith—This pair in '55, as the year before, gave Millsaps a good representative ball club. As ever, they got the most from their material and were indeed vital to the successes of the Majors.

GOLF

The Millsaps Golf Team claims only two lettermen for the 1956 season. With such lack of depth there will appear some new faces on the links for our team.

It is hoped that more matches can be scheduled this year than ever before. Competition will be stiff, but the Majors plan to make a marked improvement over the records of the past few years.

Bill Lampton and Breck King

RETURNING LETTERMEN

The minor sports definitely have their place at Millsaps. Dr. White and his boys gave Millsaps a team to be proud of last year, and the Golf Team has promise for the future.

TENNIS

Last year saw the Millsaps Netmen meet and conquer some of the roughest teams in Mississippi. Time and again the Majors proved that the underdog rating they were usually given was quite a misnomer.

This year Millsaps has the good fortune of retaining most of its starting lineup from last year's fine group of players. If the spirit is as good this year there should be no stopping place on the road to more success.

CHEERLEADERS

There were times during the course of the year that school spirit seemed to be at a low ebb. However, there were six people who always gave their full support to the team and tried to inspire others to do the same. At every home game, through rain or shine, the Cheerleaders constantly showed their faith in the Majors.

We salute the Cheerleaders for a season of hard work. It would be well worth our while to follow the example they have set for us.

SPIRIT OF MILLSAPS

MAJORETTES

Never before has a student body looked forward to the half-time show as we did this year. No doubt the group of young ladies pictured at the right had much to do with this.

No matter what animal they imitated or what dance steps they did the Majorettes were always a sight to behold. Their work called for many hours of patient practice, as well as scanty outfits on Saturday afternoons. We thank them for the colorful halftime shows which they gave us during the year.

PARKS REACHES FOR THE TIP

The following pages tell the story of a team that lacked the ability to outscore the opposition. In view of this fact, we say we had a losing team.

The story would not be an accurate one if it included a won-lost record. Perhaps we did lose, but at many times during the season Coach Smith's boys were able to convince us that winning was not always the only thing to consider. Their fight and determination against several "professional" amateurs made us conscious of a spirit that might not have existed with even a perfect record team. These boys deserve much credit for the many hours of practice they turned in while most of us were catching our afternoon nap.

As for the future, we can only speculate. It is hoped that more material will be available to the college in the form of capable players. However, there were many talented players on the campus who did not give of their energy to the team. Millsaps will remain on an amateur basis and keep in there plugging away.

A WORD OF THANKS

At the end of such a task as the one we have completed there are many things we like to recall. Deadlines, worry, sweat, and strain have been our motto through rain, storm, and fair weather (which was a rare occasion on the campus). At the end of it all we can muster up enough courage to say we enjoyed it, even amidst all the accusations that we would break the Bank of Monte Carlo with our financial policies.

In this space I wish to thank personally the members of my staff who did such an excellent job in helping this edition of the Bobashela to be a book the staff is proud to claim. Claire King and Hiram Polk were able Assistant Editors, offering advice and hard work whenever it was needed. Oscar Dowdle and Nena Doiron did a remarkable job of doing the long and controversial class sections. Ed Upton, Peggy Perry, and Elwyn Addkison assembled the social pages with undying loyalty. Eddie Williams and Foster Lowe were better than Bill Stern when it came to the sports pages. Jerre Gee carried on a romantic correspondence course with Frankie Laine concerning the beautiful girls who were our beauty candidates and ultimate winners. Hal Miller, with his undeniable cynicism, cunningly drew up the clever snapshot pages which are found between these covers. Bill Walker and Pat Warren knew the ropes when it came to putting together a good activities section. And last, but not least, Albert "Scoop" Williamson did a job on the photography that will be remembered and appreciated for many years. As for my part, I had the privilege of working with this fine crew and finding out for myself why ulcers are prevalent among editors.

Finally, we wish to thank the Business Staff for their prompt job in securing the ads for this section. Even though Burton Jackson screamed every time I added another page of color and refused to foot the bill, I wouldn't have changed a thing. He and his staff deserve much credit.

Our Faculty Advisor, Mr. Lance Goss, was top notch. Even with all his other activities he was a patient and sympathizing soul. Many members of the student body pitched in now and then to help us along the way. We appreciate the aid of all who did a share in this book's production.

Six Busy,

To interview the Millsaps leaders is to catch six of the best, swiftest, jolliest fellows on the campus somewhere between bites and meetings. And that is not an easy thing to do!

When asked why they liked leading cheers, they each agreed it was for the same reason: jobs.
